Member of Athens High School Faculty Is Last Subject for the Biographies of Official Family

With this reference to the third member of the Executive Committee of the Ohio University Alumni Association the editor brings to a close his series of "close-ups" of the officers of the alumni organization.

To many it has no doubt been an interesting series and it is hoped that as a result of it the members of the Association have become better acquainted with the official family for the current year.

Miss Mary Connett, executive committeeman — or should we say committeewoman — entered the halls of Ohio University as a Freshman in 1907 and left them in 1911, a Bachelor of Philosophy. In her senior year she was vice-president of her class and treasurer of the Y. W. C. A..

With the exception of a three-year period Miss Connett has been a teacher in the schools of Athens since graduation from the University.

During the first year out she was a teacher in the elementary grades of the Athens public schools. The following year, and until 1915, she was a member of the high school faculty. In the latter year she went to Mansfield, Ohio, where she was also a teacher in the high school, in the department of English.

Returning to Athens three years later Miss Connett became head of the English department of the newly instituted John Hancock (University) High School in Athens and was principal of this school at the time of its discontinuance in 1925.

From John Hancock Miss Connett returned to Athens High where she has been ever since and where, in addition to her teaching in the English department, she is Advisor to Girls.

Graduate work at Columbia University was crowned in 1928 by the receipt of a Master of Arts degree.

Miss Connett is a sister of the late Mrs. G. D. Estes (Elizabeth B. Connett, '13, 2-yr.) and of Loring G. Connett, '10, 2-yr., Athens florist.

With the above "biography" is concluded the series of sketches which was opened with a record of the academic preparation and subsequent accomplishments of the association's president, Prof. Harry Lee Ridenour, '12, of Baldwin-Wallace College.

While space will not permit of extended references to the presidents of the various alumni chapters it is desired at this time to honor them by at least mentioning their names. These officers, who served during the year 1929-1930, and the chapters they represent are:

Akron—Mr. J. M. Zang, '03; Canton—Miss Key Wenrick, '13; Chicago—Mr. R. P. Ashbaugh, '10, 2-yr.; Chillicothe—Mr. Manning G. Coultrap, '06; Cincinnati—Mr. Gilbert J. Shaver, '23; Columbus—Mr. Earl C. Shively, '21; Eastern Ohio—Mrs. Paul Kirk, '12, 2-yr.; Steubenville, Ohio; Gallipolis—

Mr. J. Paul Wetherholt, '20; Huntington, W. Va.—Everett M. Starr, '20.

Ohio's Largest Class Will Soon Pass Through College Portals

Unless second semester examinations take an unusually high toll, Ohio University will graduate on June 9, the largest class in its 126 years of existence.

Three hundred forty students have made application for diplomas or degrees. This will exceed by four the number granted diplomas and degrees in 1929, when 336 were graduated. An exceptionally large graduating class in February is the reason for this spring's class being below the 350 mark.

Of the number making application for graduation, ninety-six are in the two-year diploma group, which is divided as follows: forty in Kindergarten-Primary; seven in County Education; and fifty-nine in Elementary Education. One three-year diploma in Physical Education will be awarded while one four-year diploma in Art Supervision has been applied for.

Two hundred twenty-eight baccalaureate and three masters' degrees will be given.

Of the former, 108 degrees will be in Education, three in Music, one in Biology, three in Chemistry, four in Civil Engineering, four in Electrical Engineering, two in Physics, one in Secretarial Science, twenty in Commerce, and eighty-two in Liberal Arts.

Baccalaureate and commencement addresses will be given by Dr. Enoch Albert Bryan, president of Washington State College, Pullman, Wash.

The program for the Senior-Alumni Convocation, final "convo" of the year, has been completed and will offer much that will be of interest to commencement guests.

Mr. Carl D. Sheppard, '02, Akron, Ohio, will deliver the annual alumni "charge" to the graduating class which will be responded to by Carl W. Slack, '30, McKeesport, Pa., vice-president of the senior class. President Bryan will also be heard on this concluding convocation program of the school year. The final address—and all of the addresses will be brief—will be in the nature of a farewell word in behalf of the seniors and will be given by the class president, Kenneth C. Coulter, '30, Knox, Pa.

The musical contributions to the program will be made, for the alumni, by Jay Read, '22, baritone, Columbus, Ohio, and for the graduating class by Mary Elizabeth Clark, '30, Circleville, Ohio.

The Senior-Alumni Convocation will be held in the Alumni Memorial Auditorium at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, June 7.

Other events of major interest scheduled for Alumni Day are the Commencement Picnic, under The Elms, and the Commencement Play, a revival of "East Lynne," to be staged by the Ohio University Playshop in the Auditorium. (See detailed program on inside of front cover page.)

Successful Book Is Published

Mrs. Louise G. Walsh, '18, has collaborated with her husband, Dean Matthew J. Walsh, of State Teachers College, Indiana, Pennsylvania in the writing of a textbook recently published, "History and Organization of Education in Pennsylvania," which has met with an unusually friendly reception.

The new book came from the printers on January 10, and is at the present time being used in the class rooms of thirteen of the fourteen state teachers colleges in Pennsylvania and in a number of other colleges as well.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

THE first stride forward in Ohio University's quarter-century march to its sesqui-centennial birthday has been completed. A collegiate year, the 126th for the "oldest school west of the Alleghenies," is drawing to a close, leaving tokens of progressive development, indicative of future growth. A review seems not amiss. More than 2,300 students enrolled during the first few weeks of last September, a number greater than had ever registered before. Throughout the year the number has remained approximately the same, February's figures showing 2,301 students. A week from today, 343 seniors will have completed their work, awaiting only the formal presentation of degrees. Ohio University will graduate the largest class in its history and President Bryan has already presented degrees to more students than did all the administrative heads preceding him.

Of greater significance, however, is the work accomplished by the student body in the past year. In athletics, in music, in journalism, and in scholarship, Ohio University has assumed an enviable leadership. New buildings have been dedicated and planned to insure proper care for the needs of those who will supplant present underclassmen.

Football needs no review for most students. Totalling 313 points against only 13 for their opponents, the Bobcats remain one of the outstanding teams in the country, never coming within the shadow of defeat. A new stadium, modern, complete in every detail, was dedicated this year in token of a foresight which looks forward to new champions in future years.

The Music-Lecture Course, featuring Mme. Galli-Curci, was the most expensive offered in any Ohio college this year, winning popular approval. The Girls' Glee Club played host to more than 200 singers, representing schools throughout the state, in the annual glee club contest held here in March.

The Ohio University Band, numbering 85 members, proved itself one of the best in Ohio in several presentations during the year. Trips were frequent, and new equipment, new uniforms, new locker rooms and last, but not least, a full-time director, boosted the organization to a great extent. Plans were also outlined for new courses in conducting, unique in curricula of today.

President Bryan reviewed 25 years as an administrator recently, having spent almost a decade in helping Ohio University to gain its present position as an institution which has progressed rapidly in its educational ranking. In nine years spent on this campus, he has seen a Men's Gymnasium, a Super Hall, a new Alumni Memorial Auditorium, and a Men's Union placed side by side with other campus edifices. Dr. Bryan has been instrumental to a great degree in this growth of the university.

Phi Beta Kappa honored eleven students this year. Kappa Tau Alpha, known as the "Phi Beta Kappa of Journalism," was newly installed in September on the Ohio University campus.

Conventions have found Athens an excellent place to meet. An Interfraternity Council Conference discussed many Greek-letter problems in sessions here. The B. I. A. C. track meet chose Ohio Stadium as a contest ground this year. The Ohio College Newspaper Association approved a fall convention to be held in Athens.

The list of achievements of Ohio University in the past year could be continued indefinitely. Only a few of the high lights have been mentioned here. Enough has been pointed out, however, to show that Ohio University is in the full swing of growing strength, and vigourousness, winning new youth and new friends each year.

With this, the last issue of the Green and White, the chronicle of Ohio's activities closes its covers, until a new, refreshed student body arrives to take up tasks left idle during summer months, adding new pages to Ohio history — The Green and White.

ON THE CAMPUS

Phi Beta Kappa Chooses Grads

"Man should attempt to keep his goodness equal to his wisdom," said Dr. Joseph V. Denney, head of the English Department and formerly Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at Ohio State University, Columbus, in a lecture on Shakespeare's Philosophy of Ignorance, in the annual Phi Beta Kappa address at the Presbyterian Church May 1.

By means of examples from the Shakespearean dramas, Dr. Denney told of the way in which the playwright treated ignorance so as to make it a source of everlasting delight. Shakespeare did not have the idea that he wanted to change the world, said Dr. Denney, but he accepted and loved it.

Preceding the lecture, a banquet was held in honor of the newly initiated members.

Alumni chosen for membership this year were: Dr. Harry W. Mayes, '08, physician and surgeon, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Dr. Oscar L. Dustheimer, '13, professor of Mathematics and Astronomy, Baldwin-Wallace, Berea, Ohio; Dr. Anna Pearl MacVay, '92, dean, Wadleigh High School, New York City; Dr. A. E. Livingston, '10, professor of Pharmacology, Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa.; Prof. Harry L. Ridenour, '12, head, English department, Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, Ohio; Dr. Esther M. Greisheimer, assistant professor of Physiology, Medical School, University of Minnesota, and Consulting Psychologist, Minneapolis, Minn.

The first two persons, Dr. Mayes and Dr. Dustheimer, were present for the initiation in Athens while the remaining four will be initiated by Phi Beta Kappa chapters elsewhere for and at the request of the local chapter.

The names of undergraduates initiated on May 1 were published last month.

Alpha Gams and Deltas Win

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority was adjudged winner of the annual Ohio University sorority song contest, May 6, sponsored by the Athens Rotary Club. Alpha Xi Delta, winner of last year's contest, placed second.

Eight sororities, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Xi Delta, Phi Mu, Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, and Pi Beta Phi, were entered in the contest.

The judges: Professors Paul Sebring, S. Victor Lekberg, and Charles D. Giauque.

By a margin of but three points (total points 100) Delta Tau Delta won possession, May 8, of the trophy offered annually by Dr. Blaine R. Goldsberry, '14, as an award for first place in the Ohio University fraternity song contest, sponsored by Torch, men's senior honorary society. Phi Kappa Tau was awarded second honors.

The six competing fraternities were: Sigma Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Kappa Tau, Beta Theta Pi, Tau Sigma Delta (Pi Kappa Alpha), and Phi Delta Theta.

The judges: Charles A. Bukey, Parkersburg, W. Va.; Ralph Parks, Nelsonville, Ohio, and Howard C. "Jack" Bobo, '19, Athens.

Expensive Apparatus Added

Several new instruments of recent invention have been purchased and installed in the laboratories of the Chemistry and Physics departments of Ohio University for the study of crystalline and atomic structures.

A spectroscope, imported from London, to be used for photographing ultra-violet rays below visible range, is one of the newly acquired instruments. It is valued at $1,400.

An X-ray diffraction spectograph for analysis of crystal structure, valued at $3,000, is another of the new instruments.

Others include a set of delicate scales which register to a millionth of a gram, and a milligram oil drop apparatus for the measurement of electronic charges.

Work on Library to Start

Bids for the proposed new Ohio University Library will be received by the Ohio Department of Public Works on Tuesday, May 27, until 11 o'clock in the morning, in Columbus.

The new building, which it is estimated will cost about $350,000 will be erected on the northwest corner of the campus in line with the Alumni Memorial Auditorium, which stands just south of the McGuffey Elms. Plans for the library building were prepared by Cleveland architects, Howell & Thomas, for the Ohio Department of Public Works.

It now appears that actual work will start on the new building early in the present summer. The library in a general manner will correspond with the Alumni Memorial Auditorium in style and materials.

Campus Elections Bring New Officers

The Toupee-Independent coalition was again successful at the polls when last month it elected its slate of officers and members for the various positions of class and Men's Union organizations. Nonpartisan tickets were placed in the field by other organizations.

Students chosen to lead the Men's Union for next year were: Maurice Foraker, Corning, president; Allan Moon, Nova, vice president; Robert Corace, Pittsburgh, Pa., secretary; and Paul Hauserman, Mansfield, treasurer.

Presidents of classes: Eugene Cotter, Erie, Pa., Class of 1931; Russell Kepler, Wellington, Class of 1932; Earl Mason, Portsmouth, Class of 1933. The president of next year's entering class will be elected in October.

Newly elected officers to serve the Y. W. C. A. for the coming year are: Marian McClure, Athens, president; Helen McLaughlin, Athens, vice president; Madeline Martin, Vales Mills, secretary; and Helen Goss, Lakewood, treasurer.

Officers to head the Women's League for 1930-31 are: Hannah Joyce, Rock Creek, president; Jane Mooney, Plain City, vice president; Margaret Sanders, Norwalk, secretary; and Mary E. Kessinger, Nelsonville, treasurer.

New Women's Athletic Association officers: Martha Ransdell, Galion, president; Sophia Elikan, Bellaire, vice president; Thelma Thomas, Youngstown, secretary; and Louise Ralph, Delaware, treasurer.

Green and White Ties—But Loses

Ohio University was chosen as host to the fall convention of the Ohio College Newspaper Association at the business session of the spring assembly held at Denison University, Granville, May 17.

David Stein, newly elected editor of the Green and White, Ohio University semi-weekly newspaper, and new vice president of the association, extended the bid which was accepted.

More than 32 Ohio colleges are members of the association, and will send editors, business managers, sports editors, and other publication officials to the convention here, which will be divided into group discussions for members of the business and editorial departments. Representatives from Columbus and Cleveland newspapers will be invited to speak, and a dance is being planned to close the convention activities.

Declaring that the Green and White's staff of 65 members might naturally be expected to have a slight advantage over the staff of 30 members of the Akron University "Buchtelite" the Cleveland Plain Dealer broke a tie decision this year by awarding its trophy for the best college newspaper in the state to the Akron publication. Ohio's "Green and White" was the trophy winner last year and had high hopes of repeating this year.

Elmer "Deed" Schofield, '27, will graduate in May from the Medical College at Louisville, Kentucky, after which he will accept appointment as an interne at the military hospital at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas. "Deed" served overseas in the World War as a member of the 136th Field Artillery.

Local Alumni Groups Stage Real Reunions With Lots of Pep and Punch During the 1930 Season

No less—indeed more—than last month the secretary-editor is hard pressed for space in which to report the alumni chapter meetings which have to this time been unreported.

R. P. Herrold, '16

Never in the history of the Alumni Association has there been a series of winter and spring meetings comparable, on the whole, to the meetings of 1930. Never before, therefore, has there been a time when the fine work of officers and committeemen should be so sincerely praised and their meetings so fully reported as the present but, alas, because of the large number of such affairs detailed reports are impossible.

May no disappointments arise from faulty or scanty news covering of alumni parties.

Rufus Putnam. The well known and deservedly popular Betsey Gates Mills Club in Marietta, Ohio, was the scene of festivities that attended the meeting of Washington County alumni on April 15.

President Fergus Finch, '24-ex, and Secretary W. H. Webb, '25, headed up the committees that staged the 1930 reunion which was a genuine "knockout" with an attendance of 93 persons.

Attorney V. E. Metcalf, '17-ex, acted as toastmaster and among those responding to his call were Judge D. H. Thomas, '96, Supt. H. L. Sullivan, '19, Supt. W. H. Webb, '25, and several chapter guests.

Upon motion of Betty Greene, '23, a former officer, it was voted to change the name of the group from the Marietta chapter to the Rufus Putnam chapter because of General Putnam's one-time residence and historical associations in Marietta and because of his prominent part in the founding of Ohio University.

The Alumni Secretary arrived from Chicago just in time to break bread with this splendid group and to exhibit, after the dinner and speaking, the Ohio University movies.

Retiring officers: Mr. Finch and Mr. Webb.

New officers: Mr. Webb, president; Mr. H. L. Sullivan, secretary.

Columbus. Three nights later Columbus and Franklin County alumni, in almost the same number as at Marietta, made merry in a reunion at the Neil House.

As master of ceremonies President Earl C. Shively, '21, enlisted the talented services of Arthur C. Johnson, editor of the Columbus Dispatch, and trustee of Ohio University. After the dinner Mr. Johnson introduced President Bryan, of the University, as a special guest of the chapter and the speaker of the evening.

President Bryan was preceded by Coach B. T. Grover, '19, of the athletic department and was followed by a showing of the campus pictures. Mr. Grover was accompanied by Coach William J. Trautwein who was also a guest of the central Ohio group.

Retiring officers: Mr. Shively, president, and Mrs. J. P. Farson, '05, 2-yr., secretary.

New officers: Fred P. Johnston, '02, president; Mrs. G. E. Roudebush, '16, 2-yr., secretary.

Zanesville. On April 19 was established the fourth of the new chapter organizations to come into being during the current year.

Forty-two enthusiastic Zanesville alumni responding to the call of Russell P. Herrold, '16, and meeting at the Y. W. C. A., were so agreeable to being charter members of the new group that an organization was effected almost before the Alumni Secretary had finished proposing the project.

Endorsements of the suggestion of a permanent alumni organization of Zanesville and Muskingum County grads and former students were numerous and included those of Dr. Charles H. Higgins, '87, and Mrs. Wilson Cole (Ruth Hollinger, '25).

The singing during the evening was under the direction of Ruth Breclford, '29, and was quite the finest group singing that the Alumni Secretary was privileged to hear during the entire season. Not the least interesting features of a fine evening, too, were the solo contributions of Miss Brelsford.

Officers chosen to direct the destinies of the infant organization during its first year are: Russell P. Herrold, president, and Rachael Higgins, '17, secretary.

Newark. The annual dinner meeting of the Licking County chapter was held at the Moundbuilders Inn, Newark, April 25.

Dr. Hiram Roy Wilson, '96, was guest speaker. He was accompanied to Newark, and to Youngstown the next day, by the Alumni Secretary and the pictures. Thirty-three persons composed the group at Newark.

Table appointments and decorations here as well as at most of the dinners this spring were especially attractive. The large centerpiece was of white roses, carnations, and snapdragons.

Retiring officers: J. L. Hupp, '16, president; and Emma Spaniol, '29, secretary.

New officers: Rev. Dr. A. J. Hawk, '79, president; and Miss Spaniol, secretary, elected to succeed herself.

Mahoning Valley. The annual meeting of the Mahoning Valley chapter was held April 26 in Central Auditorium, Youngstown, Ohio, and was attended by 135 alumni.

After an excellent dinner, Dr. J. J. Richeson, '10, chapter president, directed the staging of the most unique program of the annual meeting season.

Impresos and impersonations of a number of well-known faculty members were cleverly given by a group under the leadership of Al Jeffrey, '29.

Other stunts followed which were put on from groups representing different communities in the Mahoning Valley.

Ohio University songs sung by a double quartet under the leadership of Ruth Strahl, '27, were still other greatly enjoyed entertainment features.

Following the singing and the stunts Mr. Ralph F. Beckeret, '23, university representative, spoke briefly, urging all friends of Ohio University to join in directing to the campus the very highest type of high school graduates in their communities.

As a climax to this fine program Dr. Wilson was heard in one of his inspiring addresses which are so appropriate for alumni gatherings. The motion pictures closed the bill for the evening.

Retiring officers: Dr. Richeson, president; and Marjorie F. Cover, '29, secretary.

New officers: Weltha Keck, '21, president; and Elizabeth Lowmiller, '20, 2-yr., secretary.

Ohio Valley. Ohio Valley alumni living in the Wheeling, W. Va.-Martins Ferry and Bellaire, Ohio, region, convened at the Wheeling Y. W. C. A., May 2, for a most delightful evening.

Although the attendance, twenty-three persons, was a bit disappointing to the officers, there was no evidence among those present of a lack of will to have a good time. Conflicting and unavoidable engagements were responsible for the absence of many who would otherwise have been present.

Informal and brief responses from all present were followed by two vocal selections offered by the director of Music of West Liberty State Normal School, a guest, which were thoroughly enjoyed.

All joined heartily in the singing of Ohio songs lead by the Alumni Secretary after which chairs were arranged for the feature of the evening—the picture show.

Mrs. Clark E. Williams was a chapter guest who wishes to join her husband in expressing appreciation for the cordial way in which they were received in Wheeling and in the many other alumni centers which were visited together this spring.

Retiring officers: Everett D. Stonebraker, '28, Bethesda, O., president; and Matilda Scharf, '28, Wheeling, W. Va., secretary.

New officers: Laura B. Althar, '27, 2-yr., Bellaire, O., president; and May Green, '18, 2-yr., Martins Ferry, O., secretary.

Eastern Ohio. The Eastern Ohio chapter, oldest organized group in the alumni association, called its members—close to sixty of them—together for the annual get-together May 3, 1930. The dinner and meeting was held in the social rooms of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Steubenville.

For general excellence and spirit the Eastern Ohio meetings are always hard to beat and this year's party was certainly no exception.

Mrs. Paul Kirk (Eleanor Boelzner, '12, 2-yr.) was a pleasing and capable presiding officer. She introduced Dr. R. L. Ervin, superintendent of Steubenville schools, and holder of an honorary degree from Ohio University, who spoke briefly and wittily.

Musical selections were provided by Anna Mary Coates, '26, 2-yr., soprano soloist, and by the girls glee club of Harding Junior High School.

Motion pictures and a social good time wound up the evening.

Prospective students and parents of students now enrolled in Ohio University were guests

Professor Treudley Returns to Washington From Whence He Writes Last Letter of Current Year

Washington, D. C., May 1, 1930.

Dear Clark:

It is quite a transition from Florida to our great capital city. Each section of our country as well as each city has its own gifts and possibilities and reminds one of stars differing in glory. The more I observe the clearer to my mind it becomes that if it be true as I think it is true, that the chief end of man is to love God and glorify Him forever, a statement however which requires a right understanding of the real nature of the one to be so loved and glorified, it is equally true that the surest way to such achievement on the part of people whether ordinary or otherwise, is love for and devotion to what Royce calls the Beloved Community in his book on Loyalty. It is exactly this complete identification of himself and all that was dear to him, with the comparatively few and struggling people operating on the eastern side of this great country, that has lifted the name of Washington to the supreme height where it rests and will forever rest. Equally true also, of course, is it with Lincoln, Roosevelt and all others who have created and retained a serene and lofty sanity of mind amidst their tasks.

Men and women who lose the straight-forward, clear simplicity of life and character, allowing their motives to become warped by selfish considerations, substituting the lesser good for the greater or the evil for the good, are doomed.

On this account, in Florida, as well as in operations on the stock market, multitudes of persons, either ignorant or forgetful of economic law, and yet greater numbers whether in legislative or political fields of action who ignore the yeas and nays of Him who sitteth on the circles of the earth, have strewn the world with wreckage. When will men learn and be willing to apply in practice the distinguished words of Bishop Butler, "Things are as they are and their consequences will be as they will be; why, therefore, should we desire to be deceived."

Surely there is nothing more destructive than booms whether in real estate, politics, social life or religion. Bacon remarked that nature innovated but innovated slowly. Real growth is necessarily slow because it must consolidate its gains to conserve them. Witness the gourd of Jonah in the oak. It is the same in education. Along many lines this country of ours has been moving too fast for its own good. Great fortunes have been made too quickly. Too many people have been given political power in excess of ability to use it properly. Too many automobiles are being driven by persons incompetent morally, mentally and financially to be entrusted with them. Too many movies operating on too low a plain morally are being attended by too many people who ought to be staying at night in their homes and there learning as Emerson would put it, to stay at home in their minds. Too many books are being published, too many periodicals being circulated, too many would-be prophets claiming to be heard, too much publicity yearned for, too much cocksureness apparent on every hand, too few people stopping, looking, listening, taking their bearings to determine whether the direction of their careers is heading towards success or failure.

I would not be pessimistic but I would that more people would practice the art of self detachment. On the other hand here in the capital I would also that more would-be legislators had learned better the truth that as no man liveth to himself alone so neither can any collection of men however organized and to whatever growth. Conditions which work evil to one section can not be made to work permanent good to another. Rights move along the same bounding lines as duties. Tariffs, sacrosanct as they seem to many, are, in

ATHLETICS AT OHIO UNIVERSITY

Cincinnati and Miami Defeats Break Backbone of Baseball Pennant Drive But Final Victories Over Denison and Wesleyan Help to Brighten Season's Record

By the time this article is published the Bobcat baseball team will have played all of the games which will have any bearing on its final rating in the Buckeye Conference, only one game—that with Wittenberg, conference "bad boy" and ex-member—remaining.

A disastrous trip to southwestern Ohio during which the Cincinnati and Miami baseballers were met served recently to remove the wind from the Ohio sails and to put the Bobcats definitely out of the running for first or even second honors in the Buckeye loop. A final high standing had theretofore seemed most probable.

Cincinnati

Resuming the review where discontinued in the April magazine we have first a report of the encounter with the Cincy Bearcats at Ohio Field, May 2.

In this game Frank Mozdy, bespectacled hurler of Erie, Pa., registered his third Buckeye victory in four starts when the Bobcats, by some concentrated hitting, defeated the pennant-chasing Cincinnatians, 6 to 5.

Marshall

The diamond squad of Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va., was the next to appear at Ohio Field, May 9. While they offered the Bobcats more opposition than the score indicates they were a bit off color at times and did not stand up in the pinch when Ohio's offensives were under way.

Winston Weisman, Brooklyn, N. Y., sophomore pitcher, was on the mound for Ohio, getting credit for a win which came easy, 14 to 2. Marshall had earlier in the season defeated West Virginia University and the University of Cincinnati.

Marietta

Another non-Buckeye opponent was met May 13 at a foreign ball park. Marietta, which had earlier in the season taken an 18 to 1 licking from the Bobcats was forced to swallow a second salty dose, this time by a score of 18 to 4.

Weisman, Mozdy, and Trace divided pitching duties and had little difficulty in holding the Pioneers in check.

With their fate in the balance the Green and White team journeyed down to Cincinnati and up to Oxford on May 16 and 17 for return games with the Bearcats and the Big Reds. Upon the outcome of these games depended a high or a low standing in the B. A. A.

Cincinnati

A hit over second base in Cincinnati's half of the ninth inning, scoring a Bearcat runner, wrought the downfall of the Bobcats on Carson Field and ended the game 4 to 3. The Cincy victory cinched the third Buckeye baseball title for the Bearcats.

The Bobcats maintained a lead until the eighth inning when they were tied and then defeated in the final frame. Weisman had the pitching assignment for Ohio.

Miami

Costly errors and the failure of the Bobcat heavy hitters to crash through were responsible for the second defeat on this two-day trip. The score was 3 to 0 in favor of the Miamians. Ohio's Mozdy was opposed on the mound by Miami's big Dick Bass. The two teams divided the total number of hits equally but not opportunely while Ohio, as indicated, wobbled at critical moments. It was the Big Red's second victory of the season over the Green and White.

Denison

In a successful effort to climb back to the .500 mark the Bobcats trekked to Granville, May 20, and defeated the Denison Baptists a second time this spring, 3 to 2. The first game had ended 15 to 5 with Ohio on the long end but the contest was subsequently forfeited to Denison because the Ohio coaches had unknowingly played an ineligible man in their line-up.

Frank Mozdy allowed the Baptists but two hits in nine innings but his teammates permitted two runs to come in as the direct result of defensive miscues.

Ohio Wesleyan

Emerging from a batting slump which had hampered them for two weeks the Bobcats pounded Ohio Wesleyan's pitcher, May 23, for 13 hits to end their Buckeye season with an 8-to-3 victory over the Battling Bishops. It was Ohio's second victory of the baseball season over Wesleyan. It was also Pitcher Mozdy's seventh win in ten starts.

Three Ohio veterans played their final games in Green and White uniforms. These men were John "Red" Brammer, right fielder, Herbert Schreiber, third sacker, and Charles "Chuck" Koterba, short stop.

Buckeye Conference Meet Brings Track Season to Close At Ohio Stadium

Coach Herbert's Bobcat track team continued on its successful way, May 10, by winning a triangular meet from Wittenberg and Muskingum at Ohio Stadium.

The Ohioans accumulated 82½ points during the afternoon to 66 points for Muskingum and 18½ points for Wittenberg.

In this meet Herbert Woolweaver, Bobcat, set new Ohio University track records in both hurdle events while Sheldon Rowland, also an Ohioan, established a new mark in the pole vault.

In a dual meet, May 17, the Herbentmen suffered their first defeat of the outdoor season when Denison's cinder team won 69 1-3 to 61 2-3. Failure of Woolweaver to do the expected in one of the hurdle events cost the Ohioans a victory. Student track managers misaligned a row of barriers with the result that Ohio's hurdle star became confused in the lanes and, although enjoying a four yard lead at the time, was beaten at the tape.

The crowning meet of the track season was the Buckeye Conference meet at Ohio Stadium on May 23 and 24. Preliminaries in several events were run off on the first day while the finals in all events were scheduled for the second day.

As was predicted, Miami University won the team championship, which was its third straight Buckeye track and field title, with a total of 84½ points. Ohio Wesleyan was second with 53 markers, Denison was third with 39 tallies, Ohio placed fourth with 32 1-3 points, while Cincinnati brought up the rear with 16 1-6 credits.

Followers of the Bobcats had looked forward to a slightly higher final rating but were satisfied with the sort of competition which was offered the visiting athletes.

Four Buckeye records were set up at Ohio Stadium this year. Big George Vossler, of Miami, boosted the shot put mark to 47 feet, 6 inches; David Davis, Miami, set a new pole vault mark of 12 feet, 4½ inches; Charlie Shugert, also of Miami, was clocked at 9 minutes, 46.8 seconds for a new record in the two-mile run; while the Miami quartet stepped off the mile relay event in the record time of 3 minutes, 24.9 seconds. It was decidedly a Miami day as far as record smashing was concerned.

Bobcats placed in events as follows: Shot put, Ward, third; mile run, Morgan (Buckeye champion), first; Newell, fourth; 120-yard high hurdles, Woolweaver, second; high jump, Gorby (tied), second; 220-yard dash, Reuter, fifth; 880-yard run, Smolowitz, second; two-mile run, Morgan, third; broad jump, Goos, fifth; one-mile relay, Ohio, third; javelin throw, Kepler, third; and pole vault, Rowland, third.

A Six-Three Record Written Into the Books At Close of Tennis Season

On May 20 Ohio's varsity tennis team, coached by Athletic Director Bird, completed a successful season with a record of six conquests and three defeats. Victories were achieved over Denison (twice), Muskingum (twice), Marietta, and Wittenberg. The losses were suffered at the hands of Cincinnati, Ohio Wesleyan, and Wittenberg.

The flashy team from Cincinnati copped both the singles and doubles championships in a Buckeye meet, May 24, in which Cincinnati, Ohio Wesleyan, and Ohio, were represented. The Bearcat racket wielders were not defeated during the entire season.

The members of Coach Bird's squad this year were: Ferd Gross, Wapakoneta, captain; Alfred Gardner, Carey; Frank Bonifield, Athens; William Wolfe, Columbus; and Nolan Swackhamer, Laurelville.

fact, proofs of imperfections that ought to be done away. Men talk of freedom but annul it in action. Mazzini said "A man is free but in an hour he may come under the bondage of a life time." It is a divine law that only as men and women seek patiently, unreservedly and humbly to place their powers, gifts, resources, at the service of their fellows do they really progress.

Re-reading the above it seems like preaching. The writer acknowledges in all humility that he would not write such words were he not conscious of his own failures.

As ever,

J. Treudley.

Lima. The Lima chapter, that up-and-moving bunch in the northwestern part of Ohio, and the chapter that staged the "football" dinner last fall, held its spring meeting, May 17, at the Norval Hotel.

All the pep and enthusiasm of former years were in evidence in the after-dinner program of this spring's party for among the forty-five persons who were present to enjoy the splendid dinner and the mirth-provoking skit arranged by Alice Rossfeld, '25, 2-yr., were several high school seniors who are already tagged and marked for Ohio University.

Dave Todd, '29, music master and director par excellence, assumed charge of the music for the evening and did his followers respond? Well, rather. Even the high school seniors sang Ohio songs as though they had known them all their lives.

A chewing gum modelling contest was won by George Townsend, '31-ex, whose creation was recognized as either a trained seal or an ostrich — or, perhaps, what have you.

As usual the Alumni Secretary had the last word and concluded with the pictures. Mrs. Williams was also at Steubenville, a guest of the chapter group.

Another letter from W. Tong West, '26, reveals more about his work in Uruguay, South America. Tong says, "I am 207 miles interior, alone and where no English is known and having a hard fight of it with some Delco-Light lighting and water system installations. Native mechanics are O. K. but I can't tell them what I want to very good advantage. Between the language and work I haven't very much time left.
